

Advocating for Legislative Change

Getting Started

Championing the fight for Violence Against Women and Girls (VAWG), the House of Sarah www.houseofsarah.org is a faith-based Non-Government Organisation.

In Fiji, a child is defined as an individual under the age of 18, however current legislation relating to children includes the Juvenile Act 1973, Convention on the Rights of the Child 1993, the Fijian Constitution, Family Law Act 2003, Employment Relations Act 2007 and the Child Welfare Act 2010.

As the Juvenile Act 1973 and Child Welfare Act 2010 are the 2 main referenced legislation on matters concerning children, the changing landscape of crimes against children warrants an urgent need to update this legislation.

The House of Sarah welcomes the drive from the Minister for Women, Children and Social Protection to update the Juvenile Act 1973 and the Child Welfare Act 2010 which have been renamed as the Child Justice Bill and the Child Care and Protection Bill respectively.

About the House of Sarah

With the mission to provide a listening ear, a warm heart and a welcoming hand to those in need, the House of Sarah has 4 sections within the Organization namely Prevention, Response and Intervention, Gender Equality and Theology (GET) and Christian Talanoa Network to break the Silence on Violence against Women and Girls.

Under the Prevention and Response and Intervention sections, the House of Sarah adopted the SASA!¹ - Start Awareness Support Action and Sarah Carers² approach in 2019 as a means to having eyes and ears in Communities across Fiji through volunteers.

The Bills provide the Sarah Carers and the House of Sarah with stronger legislative backing as it receives reports of Violence and works with agencies like the Fiji Police Force, Fiji Women's Crisis Centre, Medical Services Pacific to name a few to ensure that Survivors³ of Violence have easy access to relevant medical and counselling services.

To date, Sarah Carers have recorded nearly 700 cases of Violence Against Women and Children with statistics indicating an average of children being involved in every 2 cases reported. Through their links with the Communities, Women feel safe when dealing with Sarah Carers.

2021	35	146
2022	18	107

¹ SASA! - Start Awareness Support Action is an evidence-based community mobilization approach to prevent violence against women

² Sarah Carers - Volunteer women who advocate Violence Against Women and Girls in Communities and provide intervention and referral services for those who report cases of violence

³ Survivor – those who report Violence or are referred to as Survivors and not Victims

2024	17	62

These statistics indicate the on-going issues of Violence Against Women and Girls and the escalating crimes against children.

The updated Bills therefore provide a proactive approach to child welfare and justice, signaling a new era of enhanced protection and support for children in Fiji. The House of Sarah has proposed herein amendments including changes in referenced terms and their definitions, stronger deterrents for dollar fines and prison terms and the overall inclusion of faith-based organizations.

Moving Forward

Having these Bills updated and finalized will strengthen the House of Sarah's vision to have a Community where Women and Girls are free from the fear of Violence. The Bills will also provide a stronger voice and protection for Children not only from offenders but in Court as we look forward to a safer future for Children.
